Leandro Morgado is a keynote speaker, performer and author, specializing in perception, decision-making, memory and human behaviour.

He presents his work at corporate events across Portugal, the United Kingdom and the United States, collaborating with companies and organizations in conferences, corporate events and strategic team development contexts.

His interventions — keynotes, workshops and team building sessions — explore themes such as Perception, Critical Thinking, Focus, Communication and Memory, based on the belief that understanding the human mind transforms the way we work, decide and relate to others.

Author of The Secrets of Your Mind and a researcher in anthropology, he combines scientific rigor with a stage presence that is both engaging and intellectually stimulating.

All of us, at least once in our lives, dreamed of being able to read other people's thoughts and leave the world speechless. Leandro Morgado is the realization of this dream. With enormous sensitivity, he enchants audiences and discover each person's most intimate secrets.

If you’re looking for a speaker who does more than just talk—someone who truly captivates—Leandro Morgado is the perfect choice. A mind reader, entertainer, and corporate speaker, he blends psychology, illusion, and storytelling to create unforgettable experiences. Audiences don’t simply watch—they become part of the mystery.

With a background in anthropology and years of performing across Portugal, the UK, and the US, Leandro specialises in perception, critical thinking, communication, and memory. His performances challenge how we see the world, creating moments of wonder while offering insights that teams can apply in their professional lives.

His book, The Secrets of Your Mind, explores how we think, decide, and remember—turning complex ideas into practical tools. Whether on stage or leading interactive workshops, Leandro combines entertainment with impact, leaving audiences engaged, inspired, and talking about the experience long after the event.

As a Master of Ceremonies, he brings charisma and energy to awards ceremonies, product launches, kick-offs, and after-dinner events, ensuring a seamless and engaging experience. His ability to connect with a diverse range of audiences makes him the ideal choice for events that demand creativity, interaction, and a touch of mystery.

Leandro is truly exceptional! His presence at our event was simply captivating. With a masterful mix of mentalism, magic and charisma, he managed to engage and surprise the audience in a transcendent way. Furthermore, his talent as a scriptwriter is brilliant, as he manages to create a unique and personalized experience from start to finish. Leandro is the right choice, due to his professional ethics, creativity and (tireless) dedication to any project.

Leandro’s games added a unique and captivating touch to our happy hour event. His ability to read minds and perform seemingly impossible feats of mentalism left the audience in awe.
What I appreciated most about working with Leandro was that he tailored the games to our event theme, was flexible, and helped bring people together in a fun and engaging way.

It was a refreshing departure from the usual entertainment options and provided a memorable and unique experience for all in attendance. I would highly recommend incorporating his performance into any event as it truly enhances the overall atmosphere.
